

Heather Bakken Bio

Heather Bakken is the Deputy Publisher and Vice President of Growth at iPolitics, Canada's only all digital news source for Canadian politics and the business of government.

She worked CBC News for more than a decade and was an anchor for NewsWorld International.

Heather is the Founder and President of the Ottawa Debating Society - which is the only public debating club in the capital.

She is the Vice Chair of the Canadian chapter of the Internet Society, a Vice President of the Canadian Club of Ottawa and is on the board of directors for the Canadian Committee for World Press Freedom.

Paying it forward, Heather leads a mentorship circle with Women in Communications and Technology in the National Capital Region.

She also loves to sing with her dogs and tap dance.
